

One part of the Partnership Exploration Course is Book Discussions, which are intended to expand the boundaries of our thinking. This is the list of the books that we will discuss during the sessions. You may notice that the books vary in ease of understanding; some are more difficult than others. Reading these books is an optional, not mandatory, part of the course. In the past, we have had many requests for the book list prior to starting the course, so we are including it here.

Book Discussions will not begin until the second weekend.
